

Testimonials for Greg Muehlberger

“Greg sees people incredibly well and is truly concerned about others above himself. His insight into the lives of others and deep care for all the people he interacts with make him an ideal coach for anyone who is trying to achieve significant success/value in their life and needs guidance. He is a purposeful listener, a creative strategist, an exceptional connector, and has a diversity of life experience that allows him to provide support and encouragement to business owners and executives regardless of their age/stage.” JS

“Greg is living life in a way that I would like to emulate. I have had very little interest in most business coaches in the past because in looking at their lives I did not find much that I wanted to follow. Greg carries a true peace with him that makes people feel loved and cared for immediately upon meeting him, and he has built his life in a way that constantly puts value back onto others. I want to be like that in my business and my life overall, so it made sense for me to learn as much as I could from him.” CB

“I’m generally a hard-sell on spending money when it comes to self-help opportunities. But Greg’s approach is not canned material nor is it coming from any special degree or certifications. He is simply answering a call that God has placed on his heart and desires to come alongside as a friend in Christ and be available for whatever season of life you are in at that moment.”

“Greg is exceptional.! Having been in the corporate world and involved with some of the best coaches high-tech companies like xxxxxxxxxxxxxxx could buy, Greg stands head and shoulders above them all.” RW

“Our coaching times have been extremely impactful. It's a combination of Greg’s relaxed but relentless ferreting out of things that matter, without me, the subject matter, feeling like I'm being cross examined. I leave always feeling uplifted, strengthened and more focused. Greg’s counsel and feedback have given me confidence as I have been going through some challenging times in my business and personally.” BH

“Owning a small business that is first and foremost Christ focused smudges all lines between professional and personal. Employees become like family, customers are seen as people to be served instead of a source of profit, and personal family and friendships can get lost or consumed in the process. Greg has expressed a curiosity and caring in all areas of life and has offered support in not only the difficulties of navigating individual situations as they occur but also celebrating all the blessings that have happened.” JE

“Greg’s relaxed approach, which actually is a signature trait of patience and love that allowed me to feel fully known. I explained at depth my calling that few people have ever heard. That helped me trust Greg as we moved forward into discussions, because Greg referred to it from time to time in how that calling could change and alter my goals for good. Greg has helped me double down on how God created me and to begin to have the faith and the boldness to start acting on it in wonderful ways. He has also helped me to see details of follow up, initiation, and clarity in the day-to-day business grind.”

“I love that Greg creates space in his schedule that makes me feel like my stuff is the only thing that matters in that space.”

“I walk away from every meeting with Greg feeling refreshed and encouraged. I feel like I am a more holistically healthy person because of the time I have spent with Greg, and I greatly enjoy the friendship and coaching relationship that we have established.”

“In one month recently, I exceeded my goal by 350%, bringing in more income than I ever had as a xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx. My 2025 monthly baseline is roughly 250% of what it was in last year.”

“Greg was so genuine in his belief in my workplace ministry and how God had uniquely placed me in this position despite all my objections that I was able to receive affirmation and encouragement I had never experienced.”

“Working with Greg has been a highly impactful experience for me. His ability to listen deeply, ask insightful questions, and challenge me with grace has helped me grow as a leader and as a person. He creates a safe space for honest reflection while pushing for real growth and clarity. When going through a particularly challenging season in my leadership, he offered real encouragement and a loyal commitment to my highest good that helped me weather the storm in a way I could not have without his coaching.” RB

“Greg spent several hours actively listening and learning about my business in all aspects before focusing on areas he could offer help or advice. Taking the time to learn about my unique situation made it possible for me to be open to asking and receiving advice. 4. He also has a large network of people and is able to draw on other relationships to help fill in pieces where others are better equipped.”

“I think initially I underestimated Greg, as I misread his relaxed sort of approach as not having business depth or acumen. Boy, was I wrong!”

“The circumstances of my life and business have been incredibly challenging during the season I have been working with Greg. Unforeseen family tragedy, business transition problems, and personal injury are just a few of the setbacks that I have run into during the last year. Though the external factors affecting my life have been less than ideal, working with Greg has helped me maintain a solid foundation from which I can navigate life's changes. I am looking forward to spending longer working with Greg and seeing how positively our collaboration has changed my life and business."

"I appreciate the person level and down to earth way of communicating and getting to deeper root issues. Greg just has a way of lowering barriers." IN

"I have enjoyed the true friendship and collaboration that comes from working with Greg. Our meetings never follow the same structure, but we always seem to spend time on the things that are most important at the time. I like being able to dream up new ideas together about how to impact the community and change people's lives for the better."
