What is One-on-One Case Management?

- Intensive Case Management
- Detailed assessments to determine barriers
- Assistance creating an employability and career plan
- Referrals to auxiliary services such as mental health counseling, housing, child care and many more
- Financial assistance for employability items, such as uniforms, work clothing, gas vouchers and certain education expenses.

Life and Work Skills Training

Online and classroom training and workshops

Courses include budgeting, resume, interview, career development, career exploration, financial literacy, social interaction, time management, and micro soft office- to name a few.

Training is reinforced by work experiences and occupational skills training.

Career exploration & navigation

- ➔ Detailed Career Assessments and counseling
- ➔ Development of career plan and appropriate education
- ➔ Assistance with applying and researching finance options for secondary credentialing
- ➔ Some programs assist with payments for educational expenses including tuition for short term credentialing programs.
