June is LGBTQ+ Pride Month

Homelessness is a pervasive issue that affects various demographics, but it disproportionately impacts the LGBTQ+ community. Studies indicate that LGBTQ+ individuals, particularly youth, are more likely to experience homelessness.

Many LGBTQ+ individuals face rejection from their families and communities due to their sexual orientation or gender identity, which can lead to homelessness. Additionally, discrimination in housing and employment further exacerbates their vulnerability.

Moreover, once homeless, LGBTQ+ individuals often encounter unique challenges. They may face discrimination or violence in shelters, making these supposed safe havens inaccessible. The lack of LGBTQ+ friendly services and resources also contributes to the problem.

Help Is Available

Northern Colorado Equality seeks to empower the LGBTQ+ community and allies through activities, programs, services and education. Honoring, promoting and celebrating the northern Colorado community's diversity is a central organizing principle. www.nocoequality.org
