How this works

This parking facility uses pay-by-plate technology. Each time your vehicle drives through the entrance and exit, a camera takes a photo of your license plate and records a timestamp to facilitate the visit. When you drive out, your account will automatically be charged for the duration of your parking session. The next time you visit a Metropolis parking facility, there is no need to scan a code or enter a license plate—just drive in and drive out.

Thank you!
