Family and Community Teaching Summit: Black Educators
Transforming Our Notions of Math Excellence
(FACTS: BET ON ME)

Your Transformation Starts Here...

THIS Saturday, April 29th, you will get to hear from 20 powerful, knowledgeable, brilliant, math experts.

We would like to introduce you to our educators, who are the movers and shakers of their professional fields. Transforming our notions of math excellence and education, this Summit will bring together Students, Teachers, Parents, and Families to look at strategies that will help Black children become brilliant Mathematicians.

With only 200 spots remaining, we hope you act fast as time is running out!

Culturally Relevant Math Resources for the Classroom

April 29 at 10:30 am

Culturally Relevant Resources ensure that children receive an inspiring and accurate depiction of their most powerful selves. In this session, you will get the opportunity to explore children's books that teach about historical African American inventors and engage children in STEM-related concepts.

Multiply in Minutes with Multiplication Nation

April 29 at 1:30 pm

Do you want STEM-ready students? Yes! Then multiplication literacy they must possess. The nationwide epidemic of multiplication illiteracy is haunting the future of our children. This presentation provides a rhythmic alternative to teaching multiplication. In lieu of memorizing 144 multiplication facts, participants learn a proven methodology that gets scholars multiplying and dividing in minutes.
