2025 Power 50

The Business Review is pleased to present the Power 50 for 2025.

This year we have 50 power duos. That's 100 people committed to building up the region, setting the stage for new investment and tackling critical issues to create a more vibrant community.

The definition of duos is intentionally broad to capture the many people working together in some way to improve the business landscape of the Capital Region. Our list includes everything from top leadership at an organization and business leaders who came together to collaborate to siblings in business and married couples each having major success on their own.

The 50 duos will be recognized at a reception on July 17 at Loft 433 in Troy. You can register for the event online.
